Welcome to AI4Clearance web service.

AI4Clearance is a research experiment funded by the European Commission. By using this web service, you agree to comply with the following terms and conditions.

AI4Clearance is a web service that uses artificial intelligence and machine learning algorithms to extract product descriptions from import/export documents. The purpose of this service is to assist businesses and organizations in their import/export operations by automating the process of identifying the Harmonized Commodity Description and generate the right Coding System to facilitate Customs clearance. Once the product description has been extracted, AI4Clearance uses the Harmonized Commodity Description and Coding System (HS) to classify the product. The HS is an international standard used to classify goods for customs purposes, and it provides a standardized system for identifying products in trade transactions. By using AI4Clearance, businesses and organizations can streamline their import/export operations, reducing the time and cost associated with manually identifying and classifying products. The service is easy to use and can be accessed from anywhere with an internet connection.
